

DDT 239: Independent Studies

This course provides practical application of prior attained skills and experiences as selected by the instructor for the individual student. Emphasis is placed on applying knowledge from prior courses toward the solution of individual drafting and design problems. With completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the application of previously attained skills and knowledge in the solution of typical drafting applications and problems.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

DDT 220 or instructor approval.

Program: Drafting and Design Technology