INT 288: Advanced Principles of Programmable Control

This course provides instruction in the advanced theory, application, and programming techniques of a specific programmable logic controller, including the hardware/software layout, addressing, communication, and machine interface. In addition, the course covers instruction in timing and memory consideration, and their effects on program and machine performance.

Credits: 3
Prerequisites:
As required by program.
Program: Industrial Maintenance Technology