

AVM 125: Foundations of Aviation

This course will review significant events, people, places, and technologies in aviation. Students will explore the history of aviation and current airline issues. They will also discover what aviation entails, its significant historical impact, and future opportunities.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

None